ABOUT US

We help our clients to turn their ideas into the unique and ultimate quality tech products they desire. These products are scalable and robust, able to match the efficiency required in performance upon expanding.

As of now, the work portfolio includes web applications. However, that is not going to stop us from building a variety of tech products in future. These projects that we undertake are more like a whole system that evolves and develops over time as our client grows.

The clientele includes selective companies because of the fact that we do not go for simple and straightforward projects, rather, for projects that require a lot of brainstorming, working and re-working, and are therefore, complicated in nature.

LOGO

Our logo is a hand-lettered one unit for the whole name

The complete art needs to be used as is and in no way should be changed anywhere apart from the colour of it

There is a favicon version of the same that can be used in cases where the visibility of the whole logo is hampered due to limited space
